

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Such motion shall not be amendable or debatable and shall be immediately put and, if it shall receive the affirmative votes of a majority of the Senators present, the pending measure, motion or resolution shall take precedence over all other business. After a motion to close debate has been made by any Senator, no other motion shall be in order until such motion has been voted upon by the Senate. After the Senate shall have adopted the motion to close debate, as hereinbefore provided, no motion shall be in order but one motion to adjourn, call of the Senate and a motion to commit, which motions shall be immediately put to a vote of the Senate without debate. All incidental questions of order or motions pending at the time such motion is made to close debate, whether the same be on appeal or otherwise, shall be decided without debate and all motions made after such motion to close debate, shall be nondebatable. After the Senate shall have adopted the motion to close debate as hereinbefore provided, the vote shall thereupon be taken upon such bill, motion or resolution with such amendments as may be pending at the time of such motion according to the rules of the Senate but without further debate except that any Senator who may desire so to do, shall be permitted at the time his name is called to speak not more than two minutes.

Should a motion to adjourn be carried, the measure under consideration shall be the pending question when the Senate shall again convene and shall be taken up at the point where it was at the time of such adjournment. The motion to close debate may be ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rule, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill, resolution or motion with such amendments as may be pending to its final passage or rejection.

No Senator shall speak more than thirty minutes on any pending question.

Mr. Brown offered the following:

The Governor, and apparently the majority in the Legislature, are preparing to seize the sinking funds of the State for the current expenses of this administration. These sinking funds have been created by special tax levies to meet the bonded indebtedness of the State under constitutional provisions declaring that they shall be used for no other purpose. The patent fact that these sinking funds have grown so fast that they will have provided for the payment of the several bonded debts for which they were created years before the debts mature is put forth by the Governor as a discovery, when it has in fact been carefully considered in several Comptroller's reports and by all Governors since the debts were created. The State's good fortune in providing for the payment of its debts sooner than was expected and before the close of the fifty-year period is made a pretext for claiming that $18,000,000 have been unlawfully paid into these sinking funds and can now be withdrawn. These assumptions are unsound, and if acted on will seriously damage the faith and credit of the State. Legislatures and Governors cannot manipulate sinking funds and withdraw part whenever they need more money than they dare raise by direct tax.

Pursuant to section 4, article 7, of the Constitution, the people, by direct vote, approved of chapter 147 of the Laws of 1903 to build a Barge canal and create a bonded debt of $101,000,000. Under this act canal bonds for $2,000,000 were issued bearing three per cent. interest. There is now in the treasury a sinking fund to meet this debt of $1,320,292.22. No further issues were made under the act because the bonds could not be sold with so low a rate of interest, and chapters 302 of the Laws of 1906 and 241 of the Laws of 1909, also approved by vote of the people, were enacted, so that bonds could be issued at a higher rate of interest. Twenty-one million dollars of such bonds have been issued, and there is in the treasury a sinking fund to pay them of $14,771,292.12.

There are four other separate sinking funds for the payment of canal debts, each amounting to less than a million dollars. All the sinking funds for the payment of canal debts amount to $17,907,324.72. Each of these sinking funds is devoted to the payment of a separate debt, separately authorized and separately issued, and the sinking fund in each case separately created by law.

Pursuant to section 12, article 7 of the Constitution, authorizing an expenditure of $50,000,000 on highways, adopted by the people in 1905, and chapter 469 of the Laws of 1906 as amended by chapter 718 of the Laws of 1907, passed pursuant to such amendment, there is a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000 (3 per cent.) and a sinking fund in the treasury of $588,027.20. There is also a sinking fund of $3,732,886.56 to meet the remaining $49,000,000 of four per cent. highway bonds of which $33,000,000 have been issued. The $50,000,000 has all been appropriated to the construction of specified roads and will be in the course of immediate disbursement unless the Highway Department remains permanently paralyzed.

The canal debts were created under section 4, article 7:

“Such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof. * * * The tax imposed by such act (referendum) in proportion to the debt and liability which may have been contracted in pursuance of said law, shall remain in force and be irrepealable, and be annually collected until the proceeds thereof shall have met the provision hereinbefore specified to pay and discharge the interest and principal of such debt and liability.”

The referendum statutes under which these bonded debts were created imposed a specific rate of tax, to be levied each year by the Comptroller. The moneys raised are directed to be paid into the sinking fund and used for no other purpose than to meet the bonded indebtedness created by the act. The embarrassment, if any, now existing from this course arises from the fact that the assessed valuation of the property of the State has well-nigh doubled in the meantime and it no doubt would have been better practice for the Legislature to have provided in these referendum acts for the Comptroller to levy a tax upon the assessed valuation of the property of the State which would produce each year a given amount. If the subject could now be taken up anew, a smaller tax would be levied as adequate to provide a sinking fund for the payment of the bonds at the end of fifty years, but the Constitution provides that such sinking funds must be created under referendum acts providing for an irrepealable annual tax imposed when the debt is created as a condition of creating it, and after bonds are issued under such an act the Legislature cannot act again. It is not left to the discretion of subsequent Legislatures; they cannot meddle with the tax until the sinking fund equals the debt.

The fifty million dollar highway debt was created under section 12 of article 7:

“the payment of the annual interest on such debt and the creation of a sinking fund of at least two per centum per annum to discharge the principal at maturity shall be provided by general laws whose force and effect shall not be diminished during the existence of any debt created thereunder."

This provision likewise is unnecessarily liberal and creates a sinking fund which will equal the debt a number of years before the debt matures.

The only authority offered for disregarding the settled policy of previous administrations, Democratic as well as Republican, in regard to these funds, or for disobeying plain constitutional provisions deliberately enacted for their security, comes from (first) the Committee of Inquiry in their report to the Governor, and (second) the opinion of John T Norton, counsel to the Committee. He opens with the following statement:

"Section 5 of this article (VII) is general and applies to all sinking funds required by the provisions of the Constitution to be created and maintained. It is not important here."

The section thus declared to be unimportant by Mr. Norton reads as follows:

"The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and the extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the State shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided."

The recommendation of the Committee and Mr. Norton would lead to the immediate appropriation for purposes of ordinary State expenses of over $18,000,000 now invested in interest bearing securities in the several sinking funds.

The Committee of Inquiry says:

"To concede that this theory is correct is to grant that the first three decades are imposed with the burden of this (highway) debt; that the latter two decades during the life of the issue are relieved of any proportion of this burden; and, further, too, they are presented, without consideration, with the public utility for which the bonds were issued, free of debt, and the accumulations on fifty million dollars for nineteen years, pending the maturity, to be spent for general purposes, a sum amounting to thirty-seven million, six hundred and seventy-seven thousand and eighteen dollars ($37,677,018)."

This statement involves several absurdities. It involves the absurdity that the extreme limit of fifty years within which the debt must be paid amounted to a command that it should not be paid at an earlier date. It involves the further absurdity that the interest upon the completed sinking fund will not be available for and cannot be used for the payment of interest upon outstanding bonds. It involves the further absurdity that the debt referred to (highways) is for the creation of a public utility permanent in its nature and not requiring constant renewal from use. There has been nothing in the experience of the State or the administration of the Highway Department to lead to the belief that the average life of a highway will be more than one-half of the fifty years period within which this indebtedness must be paid. Unless future decades raise the money to renew the roads, the public utility created by this debt will be a forgotten incident of a past generation when the last highway bonds are paid. There is no excuse in law, in morals, or in equity for the seizure, directly or indirectly, of any part of the sinking funds of the State for the uses of the present administration.

This question, if strange and new to the present administration, was familiar to the framers of the Constitution, the legislatures that passed the laws and the comptrollers who issued the bonds and published statements widecast of the sinking funds as they are, and as they have been heretofore maintained to induce the public to purchase the bonds. We warn citizens of the State in all parties of this assault on the faith and credit of the State.

When the $18,000,000 has been seized and spent by this most unbusinesslike administration, every dollar of it will have to be raised over again and paid into these sinking funds. The sale of the securities in which the sinking funds are now invested will in the present depressed market cause a net loss of approximately $100,000 on each $1,000,000 of securities disposed of and the transaction will seriously affect the market price of upwards of $150,000,000 of bonds to be issued in the next two years. It is to be seized, not in the interest of taxpayers, but to blind them to the wasteful and extravagant budget of this administration which will exceed by several millions the budget of Governor Dix.

Ordered, That said address be laid upon the table and printed.

Except the debts specified in sections two and three of this article, no debts shall be hereafter contracted by or in behalf of this State, unless such debts shall be authorized by law, for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof. No such law shall take effect until it shall, at a general election, have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election. On the final passage of such bill in either House of the Legislature, the question shall be taken by ayes and noes, to be duly entered on the journals thereof, and shall be: “Shall this bill pass, and ought the same to receive the sanction of the people?” The Legislature may at any time after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may at any time, by law, forbid the contracting of any further debt or liability under such law; but the tax imposed by such act, in proportion to the debt and liability which may have been contracted in pursuance of such law, shall remain in force and be irrepealable, and be annually collected, until the proceeds thereof shall have made the provisions hereinbefore specified to pay and discharge the interest and principal of such debt and liability. The money arising from any loan or stock creating such debt or liability shall be applied to the work or object specified in the act authorizing such debt or liability, or for the payment of such debt or liability, and for no other purpose whatever. No such law shall be submitted to be voted on within three months after its passage or at any general election when any other law or any bill shall be submitted to be voted for or against. The Legislature may provide for the issue of bonds of the State to run for a period not exceeding fifty years in lieu of bonds heretofore authorized but not issued and shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax for the payment of the same as hereinbefore required. When any sinking fund created under this section shall equal in amount the debt for which it was created, no further direct tax shall be levied on account of said sinking fund, and the Legislature shall reduce the tax to an amount equal to the accruing interest on such debt. The Legislature may from time to time alter the rate of interest to be paid upon any State debt, which has been or may be authorized pursuant to the provisions of this section, or upon any part of such debt, provided, however, that the rate of interest shall not be altered upon any part of such debt or upon any bond or other evidence thereof, which has been, or shall be created or issued before such alteration. In case the Legislature increases the rate of interest upon any such debt, or part thereof, it shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay and sufficient to pay the increased or altered interest on such debt as it falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof, and shall appropriate annually to the sinking fund moneys in amount sufficient to pay such interest and pay and discharge the principal of such debt when it shall become due and payable.

“ In case any annual tax heretofore imposed for the payment of a debt authorized by vote of the people under the Constitution will, if continued, provide for the payment of the interest on such debt as it falls due and also the payment of the principal of such debt before it becomes due, the Legislature may amend the law by reducing the rate of such tax, provided that the same shall not be reduced below a sum sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due and also the principal of such debt when it becomes due.

“ The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to direct the Comptroller or any officer of the State to impose a tax sufficient to comply with the provisions of this section for the protection of any sinking fund of the State.

The increase, on an unprecedented scale, in the number of State officials and employees, and the reckless increase in salaries in nearly all departments during the last four years are explainable only by the existence of a deliberate plan to fasten the control of a party upon the State by the use of a vast amount of official patronage. The present condition of the State's finances demands an immediate and drastic revision of the State's pay-rolls and requires that unnecessary offices, departments and commissions shall be abolished. Service should be rendered to the State on the basis of efficient and economical private employment, and I invite the co-operation of the Legislature in an effort to accomplish that end, whether the salaried officials of the State continue from a former administration or take office under the present administration.

The Constitution of the State of New York provides as follows:

“Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the State, and of all the civil divisions thereof, including cities and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive.”

I believe that all the members of your Honorable Body will agree with me that this provision of the Constitution is entirely in the public interest, and its strict observance, though it may at times work serious inconvenience in some particular instances, on the whole, is absolutely essential to proper administration and good government. I believe that many of the evils and much of the vast waste of the State's funds and the mal-administration of its affairs may be traced directly to the gross disregard of this basic law of the State in the management of its vast business. Indeed, careful inspection of the State's pay-rolls, and examination of the qualifications possessed by great numbers of the State's employees almost inevitably force a fair-minded man to the conclusion that for years the result of the administration by those charged by law with the duty of enforcing this provision of the Constitution, as embodied in the Civil Service Laws of the State, has been to defeat rather than to accomplish the purpose of the law.

It is not my intention to weary you by citing numerous illustrations, though they are to be found in practically every branch of the government and in almost every public office of the State. To maintain, for instance, that under the new Workmen's Compensation Commission there should be sixty-two positions, such positions as assistant cashier, chief statistician, inspector of risks and safety, investigator, examiner of policies, attendants, examiners of claims, etc., positions carrying salaries ranging from $1,200 to $10,000, none of which can be properly filled as a result of a competitive examination, is to hold that the framers of the Constitution were entirely in error as to proper governmental methods.

The Labor Department affords an equally conspicuous example of the gross violation of the fundamental law of the State, presumably acquiesced in by the Civil Service Commission at the request of the Labor Commissioner, in which an absurd number of places, carrying substantial salaries, are all exempted for the sole purpose, as I believe, of advancing individual political ambitions or of strengthening the control of a party by means of patronage. Special investigators, supervisors of printing, assistant mediators, secretaries to the division of industrial hygiene, mediator of industrial disputes, chief mediator, chief clerk of New York office, secretary to chief investigator, chauffeur, inspector of second inspection district, detective, assistant secretary, mechanical engineer; all drawing salaries ranging from $1,800 to $5,000, have been exempted in order that district leaders may control patronage and hold power.

This evil can not be remedied merely by resorting to the old subterfuge of placing in the classified service, without examination, those who have been appointed to exempt positions.

Our pay-rolls could never have been padded, our funds could never have been grossly wasted by paying exorbitant salaries to totally unfit officials, nor could numerous positions have been filled by those utterly incompetent to discharge the duties, provided by law, had any determined effort been made to enforce the mandatory provision of the Constitution of the State.

It is not my purpose to recommend to your Honorable Body legislation popularly known as "ripper" legislation, to the end that offices or places now held by members of one political organization may be filled by members of another political organization, but I do believe that it will be my duty from time to time to ask for such legislation as will compel obedience to the very simple mandate of the Constitution that "appointments and promotion may be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations."

DEPARTMENT OF EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY

The Department of Efficiency and Economy, with a large list of officials, drawing from the State salaries ranging from $1,200 to $12,000, is, in my opinion, entirely unnecessary, serves no useful purpose, and should be at once abolished.

FIRE MARSHAL

I believe that the duties imposed by law upon the State Fire Marshal, his deputies, secretaries, clerks and assistants, can be properly performed by other departments, and I find that his work at present is largely duplicated by officials of other departments.

I recommend that this office be abolished.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONS

The Governor has from time to time been authorized by your Honorable Body to appoint various commissions to serve without pay. The purposes for which such commissions have been created have usually been worthy and the personnel of such commissions unobjectionable, but the usual provision in the laws authorizing such appointments that the expenses of such commissions shall be borne by the State is resulting in an increased burden of expense to the people, not justified in view of the present condition of the State's finances.

SUPERINTENDENTS OF ELECTIONS

Some years ago, there was established by law the Metropolitan Election District, and the position of State Superintendent of Elections was created, with power over the Metropolitan District. Upon the accession of the Democratic party to power, this work was extended beyond the Metropolitan district, and two additional superintendents of election were appointed to cover the State, outside the Metropolitan District.

Conditions in a great city like New York are necessarily different from those in the country or in the smaller cities of the State. The frequent change of residence on the part of many of the vast population and the crowded conditions of the city have made colonization of voters in some sections comparatively easy and the detection of those guilty of violation of the Election Laws difficult. Similar conditions do not exist in the less densely populated portions of the State, and the employment of three superintendents of elections, together with the great expense involved, is entirely unnecessary.

I recommend legislation abolishing the offices held by these three superintendents of elections and the creation of one State Superintendent of Elections for the entire State of New York, upon whom shall devolve the duties now discharged by the three superintendents. I do not recommend a return to the Metropolitan District idea, but I do recommend that the superintendent of elections may be empowered to appoint such deputies as may be necessary to secure a proper enforcement of the Election Law everywhere in the State. Such legislation will save to the State many thousands of dollars and provide all the necessary machinery for the safeguarding of our elections.

I further recommend that the office of Commissioner of Elections in all of the counties of the State, outside of the city of New York and perhaps of the counties of Erie, Monroe and Onondaga, be abolished, as I am satisfied that the office involves needless expense to the people, and that the work can be done and should be done in the offices of the county clerks of the counties of the State.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION

The Conservation Department as at present organized has three divisions:

First. A division of lands and forests;

Second. A division of inland waters, covering water supply, water storage, drainage, navigation, etc.;

Third. A division of fish and game.

It is very important, in my opinion, that the work of these three divisions should be kept entirely separate and that each of these divisions should have an expert administrative head, who is specially qualified by training and experience to do the work as it ought to be done. The actual administration of the work of each one of these divisions can be properly done only by a man who is familiar with the special line of work and has had really sound training and experience along these lines. For these reasons, I favor three separate bureaus or divisions in the department, and I think that it is most important that the law should specifically provide that the head of each bureau or division should be a trained expert.

The administrative head of the forestry department should be a trained forester; of the fish and game department, a man who has made a study of fish and game and is familiar with their requirements and the modern methods of protecting and developing them; of the water department, an engineer, or at least some one who has devoted himself to the problems of water supply and development. These men can be found. If it is clearly understood that the Commissioner has but one object in making the appointment, namely, public service, they can be easily found.

I advise legislation which will permit the appointment of a single head of the Conservation Department of the State, who shall generally supervise the work of the three divisions or bureaus, and, as far as possible, co-ordinate that work. Although desirable, it is not, in my opinion, essential that this commissioner should be a trained expert, but in any case, the law should require that the administrative head of each one of the three divisions or bureaus, above mentioned, should be a trained expert, as I have indicated. The law should also require that all of the subordinates of the department (I would not make a single exception) above suggested, should be selected under the provisions of the Civil Service Law for their special fitness for the particular kind of work they are called upon to do.

So far as I know, all of the various associations organized in this State to promote the conservation of our natural resources, such as the Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks, the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, the New York State Forestry Association, the Empire State Forest Products Association, the Camp Fire Club of America, the various schools of forestry organized in this State, and the principal Adirondack sporting clubs, favor this plan.

I feel justified in accepting this expression of uniform opinion from citizens, especially interested, as a general popular approval of this plan, which is substantially as follows:

First. A single headed commission.

Second. A strict requirement in the law that the administrative head of each department should be a trained expert.

Third. A strict requirement in the law that all of the important subordinates shall be trained experts, appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Civil Service Law.

No subject is of more vital importance to the people of the State of New York than the conservation of its natural resources, and it is clearly the duty of law-makers and executives to see to it, so far as they may be able, that the State shall have the services of those who by training and experience are best able to guard and develop these resources.

DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

While, as a general principle of government and of business, I believe in the undivided responsibility of a single head, there are a number of reasons that lead me to believe that the Department of Highways in this State can best be administered by a non-partisan commission of three members with overlapping terms.

The fact that the State has been and is spending tremendous sums of money in the construction, repair and maintenance of its highways and that the accomplishment of this work requires the employment of a vast number of men, has perhaps naturally caused this Department to be regarded as a greater political asset for the party in power than are all the other departments combined. That the vast machinery of the Department has been used very largely for partisan purposes, there can be no question.

I believe that the nonpartisan feature of the proposed commission is important.

The work of highway improvement started under the supervision of a State Engineer. It did not progress satisfactorily, and under the administration of Governor Hughes a nonpartisan Highway Commission was provided of three members, one of whom was required to be an engineer and not more than two of whom could be selected from any one party. The work done by this commission was largely pioneer work and in the two years of its existence a trained body of engineers was developed with other necessary expert assistants. Having passed through the experimental stage, during which various processes of road building were tested, it seemed that the time had been reached when that commission was ready to do most effective work, but with a change of administration the temptation was strong absolutely to control this Department for partisan purposes, and a change was effected which did accomplish that result, with the attendant scandals with which the people of this State are very familiar and which need not be here rehearsed. The scandal connected with this work led to another change in the law, and a single-headed Commission was created, which continued the partisan complexion of the preceding Commission and its attendant evils.

Road building is the largest and most difficult enterprise ever undertaken by the State. Hardly a great business enterprise in the country could have survived the ruinous extravagance, incompetency and waste, which have characterized the administration of this Department for four years last past. I believe that men can be found who will conduct its affairs in a thoroughly business-like manner.

I think that the Commission should be so constituted that every incoming administration would have the opportunity to place upon the Commission a representative of the administration, without revolutionizing the entire personnel of the Department.

I, therefore, recommend the creation of a commission of three, to be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate. the full terms of the Commissioners to be six years each, and the terms of the three Commissioners first appointed to be respectively two, four and six years, one of the three members to be an engineer, and not more than two to be members of any one political party.

BOARD OF CLAIMS

The present Board of Claims, created in 1911, has utterly failed to accomplish the purposes of its organization. It has been inefficient, and the tremendous calendar, which has accumulated (the Board now being several years behind its calendar) suggests a change of system.

The old Court of Claims, composed of competent judges, was legislated out of office four years ago for partisan purposes only. The function is a judicial one, and it has been suggested that that Court should be restored, with the powers and jurisdiction which it formerly exercised.

Being the sole tribunal in which claims or causes of action against the State, often involving large sums, may be tried and determined, the Court of Claims should be as free from legislative interference or political manipulation as is the Supreme Court. This could be accomplished only by a constitutional amendment providing for a permanent court composed of judges having a fixed and certain term.

Another plan, and one which I submit to your consideration, and which seems to me to possess great merit, would provide that such legislation should be adopted as would confer the jurisdiction upon a claims division of the Supreme Court which was formerly exercised by the Court of Claims; some proper authority to make the assignments of judges and to provide the necessary rules. The plan would involve no large increased expense in the administrative branch of the work, and would result in a large saving in the judicial branch by eliminating the salaries and expenses of the present members of the Board. If the Board of Claims were merely changed to Court of Claims, with no increase of membership, there would probably be insufficient relief. While the plan of conferring jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to hear and determine claims involves a complete change of method, its value consists in its elasticity, which permits the State to accommodate itself to a large or a small amount of claim litigation very readily and to handle immediately the tremendous amount of claims which have accumulated against the State. In view of the great reduction of the work in the Supreme Court, occasioned by the enactment of the Workmen's Compensation Law, the duties added by the proposed bill do not seem to me onerous.

While it is possible that there may be well-founded objections, with which I am not familiar, to either one of these plans, I submit them to you for your most careful consideration, urging upon you, or possibly upon the Constitutional Convention, the necessity of putting an end to an intolerable condition, which makes it necessary, on the one hand, for those with perfectly valid claims against the State to endure the hardship and injustice of years of delay in obtaining even a hearing, and, on the other, imposes upon the State needless and burdensome interest charges, incurred as a result of the delay in the adjudication of claims.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The Legislature of 1913 adopted a resolution providing an amendment to the Constitution, relative to woman suffrage, and I recommend that this action be completed at this session, to the end that this question may be submitted to the voters of this State at the election of 1915.

THE MILITIA OF THE STATE

The organized militia of the State comprises 17,477 officers and enlisted men of the national guard, and 1,510 officers and enlisted men of the naval militia.

The responsibility resting upon the organized militia under the laws of the State, as a State force, in case of insurrection, or invasion, or imminent danger thereof, or as an aid to the civil authorities when called upon in case of any breach of the peace, tumult, riot or resistance to process of the State, or imminent danger thereof, and, under the laws and Constitution of the United States, as part of the national defense and covenant of peace, make it of utmost importance that its organizations be maintained at the highest standard of efficiency and discipline.

Careful theoretical and practical instruction in armories and camps of instruction, and facilities for rifle practice, are essential to proper training.

The patriotic citizens of our State, voluntarily devoting their efforts to this important service, are entitled to the highest appreciation, encouragement and support.

The fundamental policy of this State, in respect to the organized militia, is embodied in the constitutional requirement, that the Legislature shall, at each session, make sufficient appropriations for the maintenance thereof.

The Military Law, which is a general statute, provides for certain appropriations to be made annually by the Legislature, to meet expenditures actually and necessarily made in each year.

These appropriations, which, in previous years, had been regularly made, were last year arbitrarily withheld, and as a result organizations or individuals have been obliged to advance private funds or to incur personal liability, for maintenance, which, under the Constitution of the State, it is the duty of the Legislature to provide. It is unfair to the organized militia, and reprehensible on the part of those charged with the duty of providing adequately for its maintenance, that such a condition should continue. I commend the situation to your early attention.

TAXATION

To a large extent, our Tax Law is the result of patch-work and makeshift growth, and a thorough revision of its administrative features along scientific and accepted lines is imperative.

There should be a complete administrative differentiation between taxes that are simultaneously assessed and collected, such as stamp taxes, license taxes, recording taxes, etc., and those requiring discretion and judgment in the fixing of the quantum of assessment, as corporate franchise taxes, special franchise taxes, taxable transfers, etc. In the case of the latter class, the function of assessment should not be lodged with the officer charged with the duty of enforcement and collection, as the law provides in certain phases of our system. Approximately one-half of the total revenue of the State arises from taxes now assessed by the State Comptroller, whose duty it is to collect them. The Tax Law, as it stands at present, is fundamentally wrong on its administrative side, because the important principle of the separation of the functions of assessment and collection has been overlooked; and in that respect, we are far behind the best tax systems of other States.

The subject of equalization of assessments is vital to every taxpayer, large and small; without fair, approximate equalization, the levy of taxes on real and personal property is the extreme of injustice. The present provisions for the supervision of equalization are very inadequate, and here, too, we are far behind some other States.

Recent opinions of our highest courts, published in the official reports, indicate, by their criticism of the methods of the State Board of Tax Commissioners in special franchise assessments and in equalization determinations made by the same Board, the urgent necessity of having at the head of the centralized system of tax administration a body of men learned in the principles of taxation and in the Tax Law, and experienced in its administration.

I quote from an opinion handed down by the Court of Appeals last September:

“ The State Board, in the returns to the writs of certiorari disclaim the adoption of any formulated or intelligible method of reaching their valuations. * * * The defendants did not, at the trial, further enlighten the relators or the court as to the grounds or method of valuation. The assessments do not conclusively establish their validity and exemption from error. They do not, in and of themselves, afford proof of the method or methods used, or that they were legally and correctly made. The relators have the right to have them reviewed by the court. Neither they nor the court can adopt or review the undisclosed and, concededly, indescribable methods followed by the State Board, because they cannot know the mental process or conclusions through which the members reached the valuations. Hence, they can neither reject nor approve them.”

Properly to reconstruct the administration of the Tax Law upon a comprehensive plan, based on uniformity and in harmony with the fundamentals of correct principles of taxation, requires a thoroughly vigorous reorganization of the administrative branch of our tax system.

It is not now my purpose to elaborate upon the changes necessary to bring about administrative reform in the law governing this highly technical subject. Suffice it to say for the present that in the class of taxes requiring judgment and discretion in fixing the taxpayers' liability, the administrative side of the Tax Law should provide for a complete separation of the function of assessment from that of enforcement and collection of the taxes, and further that there should be established a State Department of Taxes and Assessments, headed by a body of persons qualified for this particular work, possessed of adequate power to exercise the duties imposed by law, to the end that we may develop a system of taxation making for greater justice toward the people of the whole State.

I recommend also that the measure proposed to accomplish this result shall contain a provision that there shall be appointed to subordinate positions in this department those only whose merit and fitness have been ascertained by competitive examination, as required by the Constitution.

I am convinced that these recommendations can be carried out and the number of State officers, nominally charged with duties connected with the levying and collection of taxes, largely diminished.

The Constitution provides that the Executive "shall communicate by message to the Legislature at every session the condition of the State."

It must be manifest to you that I have been unable to make a thorough or comprehensive examination or investigation into the conditions of many of the branches of the State government. Without more complete information than is now in my possession, I am not in position intelligently to inform you as to the "condition of the State" as a whole, or wisely to determine as to what further legislation may be desirable to recommend. There are other departments and other conditions than those I have indicated, relative to which I may desire to communicate to the Legislature from time to time during the present session.

I assure you of my desire to place at your disposal at the earliest possible moment such information as may be obtained and which may be helpful to you in your deliberations, and I bespeak for myself and for the administration, just inducted into office, your assistance and co-operation, realizing, as I do, the importance to the State of harmonious action on the part of the legislative and executive branches of the government.

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

I hereby nominate as Superintendent of Public Works William Wallace Wotherspoon, of Utica, to succeed Duncan W. Peck, whose term of office as such superintendent has expired.

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, January 19, 1915.To the Legislature:

In line with the recommendations for tax administration improvement contained in my initial message to your honorable body, calling your attention to the necessity of laying the foundation for the establishment of a comprehensive system of administration upon scientific and accepted lines, I now submit for your serious consideration certain specific suggestions.

The following principal changes in the Tax Law are recommended:

1. Reorganizing the State Board of Tax Commissioners so as to establish a State Tax Department, to be under a nonpartisan commission of three members, and with bureaus to divide the work.

2. Transferring the assessment of corporation taxes under article 9 from the Comptroller to the Tax Department, initiating the comprehensive plan which will be extended after the commission has had opportunity to investigate and study the subject.

3. Increasing the jurisdiction of the State commissioners over the routine of local assessment work, so as to secure more uniformity of methods and records.

4. Enabling the Commission to correct inequalities in the equalization between taxing districts within a county so as to insure a fairer distribution of State and county taxes.

5. Giving authority to the commission upon proper evidence of unequal or defective assessments within a tax district to order a general reassessment.

Some of the reasons for these changes and the benefits to be derived therefrom are as follows:

1. Reorganization of Board

The State Board of Tax Commissioners was established in 1896 but with practically no substantial change from the organization of the old State Board of Assessors. The duties of the Board have been increased from time to time, notably by requiring the Board to assess special franchises throughout the State, which duty was extended in 1911 to require an equalization of such assessment to be made by the Board (this having theretofore been done by the courts); and giving the Board supervision over the collection of the mortgage recording tax.

I recommend a nonpartisan commission as the head of the State Tax Department. By dividing the work among the various bureaus, each in charge of a deputy responsible for its work, the commissioners will be relieved of much responsibility for details and will be able to give more time to the larger problems with which they have to deal in working out a thoroughly comprehensive plan of tax administration and in studying and recommending changes in the substantive law making for a scientific and practical tax system. To insure the permanency of the personnel of the staff of the department the deputy tax commissioners, tax assistants, agents, statisticians, experts and other employees should be appointed from the classified civil service.

2. Transfer of the Assessment of Corporation Taxes

The State has been developing a policy, for a long period of years, of deriving its revenue chiefly from various forms of special or (so-called) indirect taxes. As these various forms of taxation have been enacted, the duty of administering them has been given to the Comptroller. At the present time the Comptroller is charged with the duty of assessing and collecting all of the various taxes on corporations, which include the franchise tax on business corporations, gross earnings, taxes on public service corporations, and the taxes on trust companies, insurance premiums and savings banks. Many of these taxes require the exercise of much discretion and judgment in their assessment. The Comptroller is required also to administer and collect the stock transfer tax, the inheritance tax and secured debt tax. Manifestly it is impossible for the Comptroller to give personal attention to all these details; and even to exercise a general supervision over them interferes with the primary and most important function of the Comptroller's office, which is that of auditing the expenditures of the State.

All of the duties now imposed upon the Comptroller which relate to the assessment and determination of taxes, properly belong to a State Tax Department. I recommend at the present time the transfer to the State Tax Department of the duty of assessing and determining the taxes due the State under the provisions of article 9 leaving, however, with the Comptroller's office the duty of collecting the tax on the assessment so determined. This group of corporation taxes not only involves the most difficult questions of assessment, but these taxes are closely related to the general tax system of the State as locally administered, and which the Commission is directed by law to supervise.

Ultimately, in developing the comprehensive plan, it will be found advisable to transfer to the State Tax Department the other tax assessing functions from the Comptroller's department; but in view of the other increased duties placed upon the Tax Commission by this bill, it seems desirable to delay any further change of this kind until the actual organization of the State Tax Department has been put in working order and tested.

3. Increasing Jurisdiction of Commissioners over Local Administrative Methods

The law under which the State Tax Board now exercises supervision over local assessment is practically the same as that of 1859 with a few additions made in 1876. Although the Board is charged by law with the enforcement of the Tax Law, its facilities for exercising its supervisory powers are insufficient. Practically the Board is limited to such visits to the counties as the members are able to make and to the employment of traveling agents. Such visits as can be made by the commissioners or their agents to the counties are necessarily more in the nature of an inspection or attempted correction of inequalities or errors than an actual supervision of the methods of assessment.

It is generally agreed by those conversant with this subject, that it is far better to prevent inequalities in assessments from occurring than to correct them subsequently. If the State Commission is provided with competent assistants who can be permanently employed in aiding the local assessors, much can be done to prevent inequalities and omissions of property from occurring. Such a permanent assistant having charge of a fixed district could also furnish the commission periodically with much valuable information which it now has to obtain in other ways, particularly for the purpose of securing a proper basis for the equalization of special franchise assessments. These assessments run into the hundreds of millions of dollars and it is essential both for the owners of special franchises and other taxpayers of the State that this work of equalization shall be accurately performed.

4. Power to Review County Equalization

The law now allows the Board of Tax Commissioners to hear appeals on behalf of local tax districts from the equalization made by a county board of supervisors (and which determines the share of county and State tax a district must pay), and to revise such equalization; but such complaint can only be brought by the supervisor of the town with the consent of a majority of the governing body.

Provision should be made so that the Tax Commission may conduct a review of a county equalization upon its own motion, giving notice to the board of supervisors. This will enable the board to act upon complaints of individual taxpayers, a power which it does not now have. As the law now stands, individual property owners in a taxing district who may be compelled to pay far more than their share of county taxes by reason of a faulty equalization, have no remedy unless they can induce a majority of the local governing body to institute an action; the possible expense of which frequently deters the local officials from authorizing a complaint.

5. Power to Order a Reassessment

The Commission should be authorized upon complaint and after proper hearing to cancel the original assessment-roll of a tax district and to order the assessors to make a reassessment; such reassessment when completed to be subject to the same appeal by individual taxpayers as is now provided in the case of the usual assessment.

This added power does not take away any of the powers now possessed by local assessors. It will, however, permit the Commission to compel obedience to the law by assessors who now, chiefly from ignorance or carelessness, often disregard the law and thereby produce gross inequality as between taxpayers within the district. When inequalities are few, the ordinary remedies may suffice to secure justice for the individual, but where the inequalities are many and glaring, the expense of court proceedings is too great a burden. The knowledge of the existence of this power will make property owners more insistent in securing their rights and make the assessors more careful. (For constitutionality of this provision, see State ex rel. Hussey v. Daniels, 143 Wis. 649.)

The Commission will be able also to deal with various local situations that constantly arise and which now cannot be remedied even where the local authorities desire to have this done. For example, where because of neglect to comply with statutory provisions, the assessment-roll is defective and could be attacked by any person who took the matter to court, the Commission, through its power of having a reassessment, could enable the local authorities to make a legal assessment-roll.

While the State Tax Commission should not have arbitrary power in the matter of local assessments, it should have sufficient authority to compel, if necessary, a fair assessment in any district so that the tax burdens will be distributed equitably among the taxpayers; and to establish a proper equalization within any county so that each district shall bear its proper share of the county and State tax and no more.

Said message ordered printed and referred to the committee on taxation and retrenchment.

A message from the Governor, at the hands of his secretary, was received and read in the words following:

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
ALBANY, January 19, 1915.

To the Senate:

I hereby nominate as Managers of the Willard State Hospital Fred J. Manro, of Auburn, to succeed M. P. Conway, M. D., who was heretofore appointed during the recess of the Senate and whose term expired on the 31st day of December, 1914; Charles R. Phillips, M. D., of Hornell, to succeed Thomas E. Moran, who was heretofore appointed during the recess of the Senate, and whose term will expire on the 26th of January, 1915.

A message from the Governor, at the hands of his secretary, was received and read in the words following:

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, February 3, 1915.

To the Legislature:

I find that the $500,000 appropriated by the Legislature to meet the expenses of the Workmen's Compensation Commission for the fiscal year commencing October 1, 1914, is exhausted, and there is already a deficiency in that Department of $25,000. An appropriation made for twelve months was exhausted in three. Such a deficiency is caused either by the intentional failure to provide sufficient funds in an appropriation bill, or by great extravagance or both. In this instance the unfortunate condition of the administration of the law by the Workmen's Compensation Commission seems to be due to both causes. The law itself is an attempt to work a complete separation between employer and employee, so that they may not only be apart as separate interests, but that they may be opposing interests, when they should be a single and unified interest. In this attempt the law provides that in every case of accident, great and small, the whole transaction of adjustment and payment must be done through the Workmen's Compensation Commission. The result shows that the attempt by the State to do the business of its citizens must inevitably cause enormous expense to the State government, besides the inconvenience and disorganization of private business and injury to private interests, whether of capital or labor. But pending a revision of the law, which shall remedy this fault, I deem it essential to maintain the good faith of the State toward those who are operating under the law to make an immediate appropriation which shall enable the Commission to continue its operation under the present law for the brief time only required to revise and amend the law.

The present grave condition of the finances of the Commission is due as much to the gross extravagance and waste of the Commission in its organization as in the conduct of its business. The law creating the Commission provides that it shall have its principal office at Albany. Instead of this it has hired an office in the city of New York at an annual rental of $35,000. Its bill for the furnishings of these offices is absurdly extravagant. The rate of compensation paid to employees is inexcusably high, one special counsel receiving $10,000 for three months services. The number of employees seems grossly excessive.

While the average expenditure of the Commission seems to have been up to this time in excess of $100,000 a month, I shall recommend an appropriation for the balance of the fiscal year of not more than one-half of that amount, or a total appropriation of $425,000. While I am unwilling to recommend an appropriation insufficient for the effective operation of the Commission, I beg leave to communicate to the Legislature my sincere hope that in the reorganization of the Commission, a way may be found to reduce the expenses of the Commission to a figure considerably less than this.

Said nomination was referred to the committee on finance.

A message from the Governor, at the hands of his secretary, was received and read in the words following:

To the Legislature:

In my first annual message to the Legislature, I briefly referred to the financial condition of the State, and stated that at some later date I would communicate with the Legislature more specifically upon that subject.

Careful study and investigation on the part of officers of the administration, the results of which I desire to present to you, demonstrate that the financial situation is very grave. The State's fiscal year is not co-terminous with the calendar year. It begins on October 1st and ends on September 30th. The present fiscal year began October 1, 1914. It is assumed that each Legislature in making appropriations for a fiscal year will at the same time take into consideration the full amount of legitimate demands to be made against the State during the whole of that year and provide adequate revenue therefor.

The administration of 1914 failed in this regard. It unwarrantably depleted the cash surplus of the State. The Governor vetoed a direct tax measure which passed the Legislature, which tax should have been levied to meet the sinking fund and interest charges on the State's bonded indebtedness. Appropriations, which must now be made, were postponed. A referendum to the people on a proposition to provide adequate moneys to complete the Barge Canal and pay the legitimate damage claims against the State by reason of such Barge Canal construction should have been submitted. Each of these delinquencies seems to have been a part of a plan to maintain a pretext of economy.

The policy of the State has always required that there should be kept at all times a surplus available in the treasury with which to protect the State against emergencies and unexpected demands.

Such a policy should be maintained.

Instead of pursuing that policy, the last administration deliberately exhausted the surplus, by its failure to levy a direct State tax, as provided for in the Constitution, for interest on the public debt and for sinking fund requirements.

The result is that the present administration must levy a direct tax not only for such interest and sinking fund requirements for the ensuing fiscal year, but it must also levy a further direct tax to meet deficiencies in appropriations for the support of the government, which should have been met last year. We must also meet unusual demands, such as the expense of holding a Constitutional Convention and the taking of a State enumeration, which could at least partially have been met out of such surplus if such surplus had not been unwarrantably depleted.

The amount of indirect revenues is always uncertain. No one can estimate such revenues with exactness. A shrinkage in such revenues may leave the treasury empty before the end of the fiscal year.

The direct State tax to be levied for the next fiscal year should be large enough to make it certain that the credit of the State will not be impaired by the State's failure to meet its obligations. A substantial and safe surplus should be restored to the treasury and should always be preserved.

The claim was made by the advocates of the last administration that the State had been saved eleven millions. The voters evidently did not believe it and the evidence of the emptiness of the claim is at hand.

The following is a statement showing the financial condition of the State after charging the administration of 1914 with deficiencies and deferred appropriations which the Legislature will be required to consider and make provision for:

Adjusted surplus at the beginning of year, October 1, 1914, as shown by the Comptroller's report	$8,517,733 88
Add revenue available for payment of appropriations as estimated by the Comptroller:
From direct taxes	$1,103,448 58
From indirect taxes	42,157,338 02
Estimated lapsed balances of former appropriations	1,102,713 90
	<hr/> 44,363,490 50
Total estimated resources to meet budget requirements for fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1915..	<hr/> $52,881,224 38 <hr/>

The following appropriations were made by the administration of 1914:

For general purposes of government	$40,222,388 75
For sinking fund contributions	7,677,138 99
Some of the deficiencies of the preceding administration have been assembled and a special deficiency appropriation bill has been prepared and introduced. The amount is approximately	5,000,000 00
The $101,000,000 appropriated for the construction of the Barge Canal has been exhausted to such an extent that it will be necessary for the Legislature to prevent the cancellation of outstanding contracts for which the State has been obligated by the preceding administration without assets to meet them, by appropriating at once, according to the estimate of the State Engineer, about	$4,000,000 00

Cancellation of such contracts would result in very serious losses to the State, which would be more intolerable than the present situation. It is our duty to preserve the property of the State and to save it from waste and loss which in the event of cancellation of these contracts would amount to about $5,000,000 in the judgment of the State Engineer. I expect to communicate with you more fully later with reference to this Barge Canal situation.
An appropriation bill is now pending before you which provides for the needs of the Workmen's Compensation Commission, which has not a dollar for the continuance of its work for the period beginning February 1, and ending September 30, due to the failure of the last administration to make proper provision for it. This bill carries a necessary appropriation of.	425,000 00
The Highway Law requires a certain amount of State aid each year for the improvement of the town highways of the State on a basis of a required amount per mile of highways. No provision was made last year for the amount required for this purpose during the present fiscal year. The amount estimated to be required is	1,880,000 00
Substantially the same is a requirement now made of us to provide for the roads in the Indian Reservations, amounting to.....	40,000 00
The State is spending $100,000,000 in the improvement of the so-called State highways and in order that this property of the State be conserved it has been necessary to expend out of the treasury each year a large sum of money for the repair and maintenance of the highways which have been improved. Last year over $2,000,000 were expended for that purpose. This year $5,000,000 are requested, but if the last appropriation is not exceeded we will be required to appropriate for this purpose...	$2,000,000 00

Moreover, the above appropriations do not include a dollar for construction work connected with the numerous charitable, benevolent and philanthropic enterprises to which the State has been committed in recent years, nor for construction work in connection with its hospitals for the insane or its prisons. A committee of your body which has been investigating the needs of these institutions has recommended:
For the feeble-minded group.....	250,000 00
For the hospitals for the insane.....	400,000 00
For the prisons	300,000 00
The Public Service Commissions have also recommended for grade crossing elimination the sum of	1,500,000 00
The total adjusted appropriations chargeable against the present fiscal year, if the above appropriations are made, will amount to $63,694,527.74, instead of $47,899,527.74, a difference of $15,795,000.....	63,694,527 74
The total estimated resources to meet that budget for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1915, is	52,881,224 38
Leaving a balance for which no money is available of	$10,813,303 36

This balance of appropriations over resources, if approved by you, will have to be met by the levy of a direct tax in that amount, which will be substantially the eleven millions which it was claimed had been saved by the preceding administration.

Moreover, a direct tax in such amount will not leave a dollar of surplus in the treasury on October 1, 1915, and will not provide the necessary funds to meet the State's sinking fund contributions, for which you will have to levy a still further direct tax amounting to about. . $8,000,000 00

Making a direct tax in all without providing a dollar of surplus, or to meet any likely deficit of indirect revenue for the next fiscal year, of $18,813,303 36

You will bear with me, I trust, if I say to you that, in my opinion, the people of the State are tired of the talk of economy when accompanied by performance which results in such a state of affairs as exists to-day in the finances of this State. It is time for something more than talk. Notwithstanding all the pre-election promises made by candidates for years past, the State's indebtedness has been constantly increasing. The regular annual appropriations have been steadily growing, and to-day the taxpayers of the State are face to face with a direct State tax heavier than any that has been levied for many years, notwithstanding the fact that over $42,000,000 is being raised annually by indirect taxation.

The people are expecting you to curtail the expenses of government, to scrutinize every appropriation with the utmost endeavor to prevent waste, to discontinue useless activities of the State, to eliminate every duplication of function, to abolish every unnecessary office, and they will be disappointed if you do not do so.

I, therefore, respectfully but urgently recommend that no appropriation bills pass the Legislature for any purpose other than to meet some grave emergency, until some comprehensive plan shall have been formulated containing provision for the actual, unavoidable requirements of the State. Coincidentally, the probable revenues of the State should be carefully estimated, and, if possible, new sources of indirect revenue provided.

It seems to me that the difference between the amount that must be provided and the probable revenues will be so great that with all the facts and information before you, it will be found that everything, except those items which cannot be delayed, should wait until some other year. Appropriations for the starting of new activities can wait. The extension of present activities can wait. In most cases additions to existing institutions can wait. Many other propositions, desirable in themselves and justifiable under other conditions, can wait and should be compelled to wait.

The payment of interest on the public debt cannot be deferred. The requirements of the sinking funds must be met. The cost of the enumeration must be provided, in conformity with the command of the Constitution. The expenses of the Constitutional Convention are to all intents and purposes a fixed charge. The legislative printing must be provided for. Awards against the State for diseased cattle killed by order of the Commissioner of Agriculture; awards for land taken for Barge Canal construction, and other obligations of the State, such as the debts created last year for suppression of insect pests and for forest fire suppression — all these must be met. The State's contract obligations for Barge Canal construction cannot be neglected. The State's honest debts must be paid. The hospitals for the insane, the State's prisons and reformatories, the normal schools, the primary and secondary schools, the institutions for the blind, institutions for the defectives and the dependents of the State, must be provided with such funds as are necessary. Appropriations for the executive, legislative, judicial, and administrative departments of the government must be made.

Until the amount of all of these unavoidable and absolutely necessary appropriations shall have been ascertained, not one dollar should be appropriated for any purpose whatever, except in such an emergency as you find in connection with the Workmen's Compensation Commission, which is wholly without funds for carrying on its work.

There has been for a number of years a demand for a scientific budget system. If there has ever been a time in the history of the State that such system should be adopted, it would seem that this is the time for it. It is absolutely essential that you should consider all appropriations at one time, in order that you may be able properly to discriminate between the important and the relatively unimportant.

I believe that your work will result more satisfactorily to yourselves if you can determine upon the entire amount of State appropriation necessary, with a full knowledge of the exact amount of the tax which you will be called upon to impose, in order to meet the appropriations which you make.

You have a responsibility, due to the extraordinary financial condition which exists, greater than has rested on any Legislature for many years. The people of New York are looking to you to meet this situation, which I believe they understand fairly well. You will not be held responsible for the extravagance and waste of the past if you shall set yourselves firmly against extravagance and waste now. You can do it, and I believe it to be your duty.

(Signed) CHARLES S. WHITMAN.

A message from the Governor, at the hands of his secretary, was received and read in the words following:

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, March 25, 1915.

To the Senate:

I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 229 (Int. 227), entitled

“An act to amend the Greater New York charter, in relation to the final disposition of refuse, (as re-enacted by chapter 446 of the Laws of 1901) by adding thereto a new section to be known as section 544-a.”

Substantially, this same bill was introduced into the Legislature of 1913 and failed of passage. In 1914, the same measure was introduced into the Legislature and again the Legislature refused its sanction.

This bill seeks to invest the commissioner of street cleaning, subject to the approval of the board of estimate and apportionment of the city of New York, with power and authority to contract for a period not exceeding fifteen years, with any person, firm or corporation for the equipment, maintenance and operation of a plant or plants for the final disposition of all classes of refuse, collected in the boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn. It is apparently the intention of the framers of the bill that the plant shall be erected upon lands owned or to be acquired by the city, and that the latter shall provide the equipment, buildings, wharves, structures and all appurtenances thereunto, other than fixtures. There is a provision in the bill that in the alternative the municipality may contract for a like period for the final disposition of all classes of refuse with any person, firm or corporation, which may control or own its own plant or plants, but it was disclosed upon the hearing before me that action under this alternative provision is not within the contemplation of the present city administration.

The meaning of the provisions of this bill is hopelessly obscure. If the city administration is in need of new and necessary powers, their enumeration in the bill before me is far from satisfactory. They are neither specific nor is their meaning manifest. It is stated in the bill that the contract may provide either for the payment of a stipulated sum or a fixed unit price to the city for the privilege of the final disposition of refuse. The important subject of the contractor's allowance is contained in a clause in which it is stated that such allowance shall be made "out of the gross receipts of the plant or plants or a stipulated sum for operating expenses, as defined in the contract, or a sum to be arrived at as in said contract provided, and for a division of the remainder of such receipts between the city and the contractor in such proportion as may be agreed upon." It would be hard to evolve a sentence in which uncertainty and obscurity are more hopelessly inter-blended.

The following clause further illustrates what I say when I denominate the bill as a very blind bill, to wit, the clause in which it is stated that a contract may provide "for the allowance to the contractor out of the gross receipts of the plant or plants of a stipulated sum for operating expenses, as defined in the contract, or a sum to be arrived at as in said contract provided, and then for the payment to the city either of a stipulated sum or of a sum to be arrived at as in said contract provided, and for a division of the remainder of such receipts between the city and the contractor in such proportion as may be agreed upon."

This bill does not appear to confer upon the city administration powers not already conferred by section 544 of the Greater New York charter, excepting the matter of time for which the commissioner may enter into contracts with private parties. That change, if desirable, could easily have been made by a slight amendment to the section.

It was contended at the hearing before me by representatives of the city that it would be impossible to interest private capital in the subject of garbage and refuse disposition for so short a period as five years. It was, however, clearly brought out that the city's refuse is a valuable commodity, and that the city is today capable of developing a considerable annual revenue from the sale of refuse and garbage. In view of the fact that refuse is a merchantable commodity, it seems to me questionable whether, in view of the distended budget of the city of New York and the grievous burden of taxation, which rests so heavily upon the city's property owners, particularly the owners of real estate, that the city should dispense with any income producing activity which it may at present command, or carry further the principle of private participation in revenues that are essentially public in character.

It is certainly questionable whether the city should lend its credit or its funds to the erection and equipment of an enterprise in which private individuals, firms or corporations concededly will derive a substantial income at the expense of the city's legitimate income.

The striking growth of the city's annual budget, which seems to defy all efforts at reduction or control and the mounting aggregate of the city's debt, certainly impose upon every public official, who is called upon to act with reference to this subject-matter, the duty of a rigorous conservatism.

For the reasons stated, I feel that no occasion has been affirmatively demonstrated for any enlargement of the very liberal powers conferred upon the commissioner of street cleaning under section 544 of the Greater New York charter.

The bill is accordingly disapproved.

A message from the Governor, at the hands of his secretary, was received and read in the words following:

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, March 26, 1915.

To the Senate:

I herewith return, without my approval, Senate Bill, Printed No. 866, entitled

"An act to provide for a county detective for the county of Rensselaer and for his compensation and expenses, and to repeal chapter one hundred and forty of the laws of nineteen hundred and five, entitled 'An act to provide for a county detective for the county of Rensselaer, and for his compensation and expenses.' "

This bill is unnecessary for the reason that there is now a statute providing for a county detective in the county of Rensselaer and fixing his salary at $1,800, the same amount as provided by this bill. This statute was passed in 1905 and constitutes chapter 140 of the laws of that year. The existing statute is identical in nature with the one proposed to be enacted except as to the provision for the constitutional oath of office required to be taken by the county detective and the undertaking to be given by him before entering upon the duties of his office. Being satisfied that this proposed bill, if it was approved by me could not add anything to the existing law I am constrained to withhold my approval.

The bill is therefore disapproved.

To the Honorable the Legislature:

I transmit herewith the report of the Board of Statutory Consolidation on the simplification of the civil practice in the courts of the State.

The report embraces a complete revision of the civil practice in the courts of the State substituting a short practice act and rules of court in place of the present method of regulating the civil practice mainly by statutory rules.

It provides as a substitute for the entire code of civil procedure a practice act and rules of court regulating the civil practice, placing the surrogate practice and justice of the peace practice in separate statutes and regulating the substantive law now in the code of civil procedure to new or existing consolidated laws.

Attention is called to the board's preliminary statement attached hereto, presenting more detailed information with respect to the contents of the report.

The simplification of the civil practice in the courts of the State is a subject of tremendous importance to its citizens, and I suggest that a joint committee of the Legislature be appointed to act with the committees heretofore appointed by the justices of the Appellate Division and the State Bar Association to consider the subject and assist the board in putting the matter in form for adoption at the beginning of the session of the Legislature of 1916.

STATE OF NEW YORK — EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, April 23, 1915.

To the Legislature:

I respectfully urge upon your honorable body the passage of Senate bill, printed No. 2121, now before you, entitled "An act to amend the election law, generally."

The proposed amendments to the present Election Law are clearly in the public interest and tend to safeguard primary elections as well as general elections in the City of New York.

As nominations are now made by vote of the enrolled members of the party and not at conventions, the necessity for throwing the same protection around the primary election, as is given to the general election, seems obvious.

The so-called signature provision of the law has been of value in the city in the past in preventing illegal and fraudulent voting, and it is believed by those who have given this subject much thought and attention that the same provision is necessary in the law relative to primary elections.

The amendments cutting down the number of positions and the change involving the appointment of one rather than three superintendents are in the interests of economy.

Certainly there can be no question as to the propriety of the provision repealing the so-called place of stay clause.

I realize that your honorable body has contemplated many other changes in the Election Law and that there is a decided difference of opinion among those equally desirous of good government in the State as to some of the provisions of the law.

I recommend that further revision of the Election Law be postponed to the next session, which will convene after the people have declared their wishes as to a new Constitution and after the direct nomination provisions have become more generally understood and the system given a more complete trial.
